ReVISION

The word 'ReVISION' is written in a large, stylized font. The 'Re' is in red and the 'VISION' is in blue. The letters are surrounded by various handwritten notes and scribbles in black ink, including the word 'VISION' repeated in different orientations and sizes, and the phrase 'WORDS ARE STUFF'.

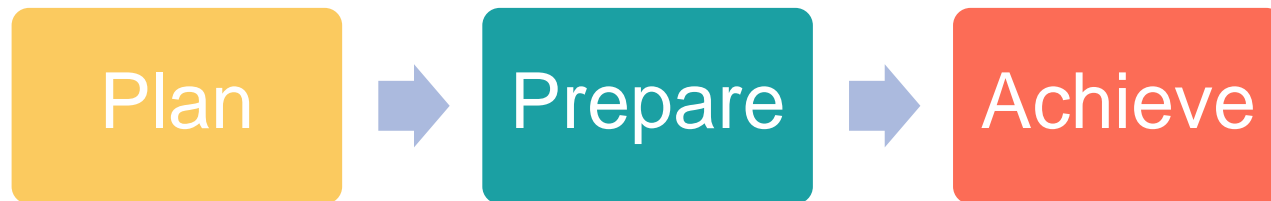

The last session focussed on when you should start to revise and how your memory works. This lesson is going to look at:

1. Your study environment
2. Being prepared

Be prepared!

- What knowledge and which skills you will need for each exam. If you do not know this, ask your teachers and note it on this page.
- Which modules and topics you need to learn for each exam and subject. Most subjects will have given you a summary of topics or contents page.
- Divide your revision into manageable sections; these could be modules, topics and sub topics.
- Tick off the subtopics, topics and modules as you go through them and learn them.
- Find out what exam board you are doing and use their website to access past papers, marks schemes and other helpful documents.

Now you've planned, it's time to be prepared.

You will feel better about revising if you have the right equipment. A suggested list is below.

- Pens and pencils in different colours
- Highlighters, felt pens
- A4 or A3 folders to store your class notes and revision notes
- Document or cardboard wallets
- Plastic wallets
- Exercise books or notepads
- File paper
- A5 or A6 Revision cards
- A3 or A4 plain or coloured paper
- Wall paper for timelines
- Post It notes
- Recording device (to play back)
