

A young man with brown hair, wearing a blue button-down shirt, is smiling and looking towards the camera. He is positioned behind a piece of industrial machinery, with various metal rods and components visible in the foreground and background. The scene is set in a workshop or laboratory environment.

Science & Engineering

Join a free Saturday Club for 13–16 year olds.

The Science&Engineering Saturday Club at the University of Salford is an excellent start for aspiring biologists. This year's focus is animal conservation in the wake of climate change. Club members will get an opportunity to meet and work with university experts in zoology, animal cognition and the biodiversity of the planet, as well as current university students. You will also experience hands on conservation work, and try wildlife photography and journalism!
