Do

Continuing with the theme of nature, many Artists look at wildlife and animals to inspire their work. Anything from brightly coloured insects, boldly patterned big cats and domestic pets can provide inspiration for art.

You can choose any animal to base your work on, and can create the work using any materials e.g. paint, collage, photography, pencil or a mixture of materials. Think carefully about the composition of your work, and try to be creative with your idea!

Henry Rousseau – Tiger in a tropical storm. 1891

Andy Warhol - Portrait of Maurice 1976

Jeff Koons – Balloon dog. This sculpture sold in 2013 for $58.4 million at auction.
