Watch this example of Tom Quigley creating imagery using photos from the internet.

Using your own images (photos, print outs or images from magazines) create your own imagery using his techniques.

- Your images don't have to be of a rural landscape. You could look at portraits / nature / water / reflections / lettering... up to you!
- Experiment with layout and layering.
- Try to mix text and image.

Try to watch and experiment with Quigley's other videos. He is also an Art Teacher, and is an ex-pupil of St Antony's.

During the summer:
